

UPDATE
BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF MATHEMATICS JOURNALS
IN AMERICA

April 30, 2004
American Philosophical Society
Philadelphia, PA 19106

WHEN: The program of lectures will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

WHERE: The main program takes place in Benjamin Franklin Hall, 427 Chestnut Street, located on the north side of Chestnut Street, just a few hundred feet from Independence Hall.

EXHIBIT: A selection of items stored at the American Philosophical Society, from events that took place in the Age of Jefferson, will be exhibited at 3 p.m. The exhibition will be held in Library Hall, located around the corner at 105 South Fifth Street.

LUNCH: An optional lunch will take place at the Old City Tavern, 138 South 2nd Street, a 2½-block walk from the American Philosophical Society. Reservations must be made by April 23 by contacting Kathryn (Kate) Ploskina at k.plo@temple.edu. There is a very nice, historical path linking the American Philosophical Society and the restaurant.

ALTERNATE LUNCH: For those who prefer to eat elsewhere, the historical area teems with restaurants to suit every taste and every wallet, especially fat ones (wallets, not people). Impecunious students can take advantage of the many carts and food trucks that line the local streets.

INFORMATION: The Independence Visitor Center at 6th & Market Streets is an excellent source for maps, accommodations, restaurants, and local attractions. The Center can be viewed online at

<http://www.independencevisitorcenter.com/Default.htm>