This week, we will discuss how we can utilize math and programming to solve complex problems. Dr. Eisenberg will demonstrate the problem-solving process needed for these problems through some Project Euler challenges.